“Hilton files two lawsuits against city, alleges violation of First Amendment rights” [Issue 878]

Most developers comply with the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and its guidelines. On occasion, a deep-pockets developer, in this case “The Beverly Hilton Initiative,” desires to avoid CEQA because he will save money and construction time. As a minimum, he will not be required to have an EIR, traffic studies, Planning Commission review, and City Council approval. He will only need the approval of residents. This can only be accomplished by a successful petition by the residents, which has occurred, that will then result in a November ballot measure that must be approved by a majority of Beverly Hills voters.

The developer claims that this change to an existing project does not need CEQA compliance.

The project, even in its original form, must mitigate excessive traffic which is a certainty. He must include an all-direction pedestrian overpass at the intersection of Santa Monica Blvd. and Wilshire Blvd., which will certainly help. It is very easy to be swayed by fancy brochures, but what is between the lines that we are not being told?

I do not think that this project will enhance the quality of life of Beverly Hills residents.

The loss of the Kenquest Garden

As a resident of Beverly Hills for over 30 years, I can full-heartedly say that I am proud of our beautiful city. I take great pride in making sure my home, which sits on a major street between Sunset and Santa Monica, has curb appeal. With that in mind, I must express my frustration with the loss of the Kenquest Garden on Santa Monica between Canon and Beverly, which occurred when the building there was sold.

The word on the street is that the former owner took great pride in the cost and maintenance of the garden. After further investigation, I found out the new owner is Shawn Far.

Mr. Far was notorious for his self-promoting billboards on his home at the corner of Sunset and Benedict Canyon.

This new owner of 499 North Canon would rather spend the money to promote the birth or birthday of one of his grandchildren with a neon sign on his home while removing Kenquest Garden and leaving dirt and debris on one of the city's main streets. It's a shame to see yet another millionaire buy into the city we love and turn it into a sterile shell of what it used to be.

NOTICE OF PREPARATION OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT (EIR) AND NOTICE OF PUBLIC SCOPING MEETING

DATE: Tuesday, August 9, 2016
TIME: 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm
LOCATION: Room 280-A - Beverly Hills City Hall, 2nd Floor
455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210

PROJECT: 9000 Wilshire Boulevard Commercial Project

The City of Beverly Hills is lead agency in the preparation of a Draft EIR for the proposed 9000 Wilshire Boulevard Commercial Project located at 9000 Wilshire Boulevard as more fully described below. The public is invited to attend a preliminary "scoping" meeting on Tuesday, August 9, 2016 at 6 p.m. to comment on environmental issues that should be addressed in the Draft EIR.

Project Location: The project site is a relatively flat, rectangular area of 15,876 square feet (0.36 acres) located on the southwest corner at the intersection of Wilshire Boulevard and S. Almont Drive in the City of Beverly Hills. The project site is currently developed with a one-story retail building and a two-story retail building, on the northern portion of the project site. The two buildings cover an area of 6,832 square feet, approximately 43% of the project site. A paved parking lot approximately 5,500-square feet in size is located behind the buildings, adjacent to the alley. The buildings are served by an existing access drive on S. Almont Drive and via the alley at the rear of the site.

Project Description: The project would involve demolition of the existing two commercial buildings and the removal of the paved parking lot. The two-story building on the east side of the site is currently occupied by an antique/art shop, and the one-story building on the west side of the site consists of three retail spaces that are occupied by a nail salon, café, and vape shop/lounge. After demolition, construction of a new 31,702 square-foot building would occur, which would consist of with three stories of commercial office development and four levels of subterranean parking. The table on the next page summarizes the characteristics of the proposed commercial building.

Initial Study: Based on the conclusions of the Draft Initial Study prepared for the project, the following areas of potentially significant environmental impact are anticipated to require analysis in the Draft EIR:

- Cultural Resources
- Transportation/Traffic

Potential cumulative impacts and potential for growth inducement will also be addressed; alternatives, including the No Project Alternative, will be evaluated.

Purpose of the Scoping Meeting: The purpose of the scoping meeting is to present the proposed project in a public setting and provide an opportunity for a full airing of the environmental issues that are important to the community. The meeting will include a presentation of the proposal and the environmental issues to be analyzed in the Draft EIR will be described. Following the presentation, interested agencies, organizations, and members of the public will be encouraged to present views concerning what environmental issues should be included in the Draft EIR. The oral and written comments made during the scoping meeting will provide an inventory of potential environmental effects of the project to be addressed by the Draft EIR.

30-Day Comment Period: The City invites all interested members of the public to attend the public scoping meeting. The City also invites written comments on issues related to potential environmental impacts during a 30-day comment period, which starts on Monday, August 1, 2016 and will conclude on Tuesday, August 30, 2016. Written comments should be addressed to:

Beverly Hills, California 90210
Fax: (310) 285-1192
Email: egable@beverlyhills.org

After the Draft EIR has been prepared, it will be released for public review and comment. The Planning Commission will then hold a public hearing on the Draft EIR and on the project. Separate notices of the availability of the Draft EIR and of the hearings on the project will be released at later dates.

The case file on this project, which includes the plans and applications, is available for public review at the Planning Division, 455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. ## Lawyer: Brucker violated City policy

In a July 29th letter to the city, Sacramento attorney Gary Winuk claims former Beverly Hills Mayor Barry Brucker violated the city's "revolving door" policy by lobbying for One Beverly Hills, the luxury development proposed by the Athens Group and the Wanda Group.

Winuk threatened "further legal action" if the city does not deny the project approval. He declined to name his clients.

But it is not uncommon for ex-mayors to lobby for projects in the city. Tom Levyn served three one-year terms as mayor, most recently in 2003, and currently represents Jim Falk Lexus, among other clients.

And just last week, former Mayor Joseph Tilem went before the Planning Commission on behalf of his client, 228 South Beverly Drive owner Moshe Kraiem (see related story at right).

Brucker was a councilmember when the revolving door ordinance was established in 2006 and when One Beverly Hills was approved in 2008.

"That ordinance placed a lifetime ban on elected officials being paid to communicate with the city on land-use projects on which they had voted during their time in office," Winuk wrote in the letter.

On July 6, Brucker resigned as a lobbyist for One Beverly Hills, and explained in a letter that he does not think the lifetime ban applies to him.

"The project that was being undertaken was not the same as the project that I voted on when I was on the Council," Brucker wrote.

Proposed for the former Robinsons-

May site, One Beverly Hills includes a 134-room hotel and 193 luxury condos, and would sit adjacent to the Beverly Hilton.

"Mr. Winuk does not represent Hilton or Oasis West," said Marie Garvey, spokesperson for the Beverly Hilton Garden & Open Space Initiative. "This issue was raised by the City Council several weeks ago and has nothing to do with the Beverly Hilton."

Last month, following a request by Vice Mayor Nancy Krasne, the City Council supported increasing the time limits set forth in the revolving door ordinance. Krasne called out Brucker during the discussion.

"Did you tell [former] Mayor [Barry] Brucker that it was OK because his 30 months were up—that he could lobby [the] Wanda [Group]?" she asked City Attorney Larry Wiener at the July 5th meeting.

Brucker, who served two terms as mayor, the most recent in 2011, stepped down from the project the next day.

"In July of 2015, I wrote to City Attorney Larry Wiener confirming that the time limits in the city's revolving door policy would no longer apply to me after September 27, 2015, and he responded affirmatively," Brucker wrote in his resignation letter.

The former mayor said he had agreed to become a consultant because the parcel located at 9900 Wilshire Boulevard—the site proposed for One Beverly Hills—had undergone "at least three ownership changes," along with a change of use.

Expected to come before the Council later this month for approval, the new revolving door policy would set a four-year time frame. The original version established a 30-month restriction for elected officials and Planning commissioners.

"It is disappointing that an anonymous opponent of the One Beverly Hills project would seek to besmirch the good reputation of Mayor Brucker for its own purposes," said Eric Rose, spokesperson for Wanda Beverly Hills Properties, in a statement. "We find it highly suspect when a letter from an attorney in Sacramento, who is refusing to identify his client, sends a letter that is both factually and legally incorrect against the only major development project in Beverly Hills that is following the City's environmental review process."

Winuk did not return a call to the Weekly by press time.

Tilem: "The most dragged-out process that I have ever encountered"

A proposal for an amendment to the municipal code to allow the construction of a rooftop lunchroom on the building located at 228 South Beverly Drive was turned down by the Planning Commission last week.

"This has probably been the most dragged-out process that I have ever encountered," said attorney and former mayor Joseph Tilem, who represents

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

HEARING DATE: August 11, 2016
TIME: 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard
LOCATION: Commission Meeting Room 280A
Beverly Hills City Hall
455 North Rexford Drive
Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its REGULAR meeting on Thursday, August 11, 2016, will hold a public hearing beginning at 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider:

A request for a Development Plan Review and In-Lieu Parking for an addition to a commercial building located at 332-336 North Camden Drive, on the east side of Camden between Brighton Way and Dayton Way. The proposed retail store (Christie's) would occupy approximately 5,387 square feet of floor area, an increase of approximately 1,400 from the existing floor area. The Development Plan Review request includes the addition of a partial second story and rooftop terrace to the existing one-story building. The project would increase the height of the parapet above the first floor roof from approximately 20'4" to approximately 25', and increase the overall building height to approximately 35'. The partial second story would be located toward the rear of the building, with the rooftop terrace located closer to the street, at the level above the first floor. The project would require an additional seven parking spaces to meet code requirements; seven parking spaces are being requested through the City's In Lieu Parking program pursuant to Beverly Hills Municipal Code §10-3-3300.

This project has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA, Public Resources Code Sections 21000 et seq.), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000 et seq.), and the environmental regulations of the City. The project appears to qualify for a Class 1 Categorical Exemption pursuant to Section 15301 of the State CEQA Guidelines as an addition to an existing structure that will not result in more than 2,500 square feet of floor area, and the Planning Commission will consider finding that the project will not have a significant environmental impact and is exempt from the provisions of CEQA.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission. Please note that any communication received by the City becomes part of the public record.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission's action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Alek Miller, Assistant Planner in the Planning Division at (310) 285-1196, or by email at amiller@beverlyhills.org. RESOLUTION OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS FINDING THE CITY TO BE IN CONFORMANCE WITH THE CONGESTION MANAGEMENT PROGRAM, AND ADOPTING THE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT REPORT IN ACCORDANCE WITH CALIFORNIA GOVERNMENT CODE §65089.

The City of Beverly Hills is required to comply with the Congestion Management Program (CMP), a state-mandated program administered by the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority/METRO, the regionally designated CMP agency. The Planning Commission first reviewed the proposal in February 2014.

The existing commercial building contains 7,820 square feet of floor area, meaning the 2,200-square-foot lunch-room would account for 28 percent of the total area, which the Commission thinks is excessive.

Commissioners also expressed concern with the fact that no additional parking spaces are being proposed with the lunch-room.

“I can’t think of a worse street in Beverly Hills to park on than South Beverly Drive,” said Commission Vice Chair Lori Greene Gordon.

Over the past two-and-a-half years, the project has been bounced back and forth between commissioners, city staff members and an ad-hoc subcommittee.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

DATE: August 11, 2016
TIME: 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard
LOCATION: Room 280-A
Beverly Hills City Hall
455 North Rexford Drive
Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its REGULAR meeting on Thursday, August 11, 2016, will hold a public hearing beginning at 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider a request for Variations and a Development Plan Review to allow construction of a new 32'2" tall, three-story residential building containing one unit located at 331 North Oakhurst Drive. The proposed project is located on a 3,327 square foot lot in the R-4 zone and would have a floor area of 3,724 square feet (including basement). Construction of the proposed project requires the following entitlements:

Variations from the City of Beverly Hills Municipal Code (BHMC) for the following:

- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2805 in order to build habitable basement area in a multi-family zone
- Variance from BHMC § 1-3-2808 to allow the reduction of the required rear yard setback
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2812 to allow extension of the basement lightwell to encroach into a rear yard setback
- Variance from BHMC 10-3-2816 to allow two parking spaces instead of the required three
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2817 to waive guest parking requirements
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2818 to provide parking spaces not enclosed by solid walls and shielded from public view and to provide the spaces in a required front yard setback

These variances are being requested in order to accommodate the proposed structure on the project site.

A Development Plan Review pursuant to BHMC § 10-3-3100 is required because the proposed project involves new construction.

This project has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000 et seq.), and the City's Local CEQA guidelines. The project qualifies for a Class 3 Categorical Exemption for new construction or conversion of small structures pursuant to Section 15303 of the guidelines because it is a multi-family residential structure that contains no more than four dwelling units, and the project has been determined not to have a significant environmental impact.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission's action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Timothea Tway, Associate Planner in the Planning Division at (310) 285-1122, or by email at ttway@beverlyhills.org. Copies of the project plans and associated application materials are on file in the Community Development Department, and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on Tuesday, August 16, 2016 at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers of the City Hall, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210, the Council of the City of Beverly Hills will consider adopting an ordinance entitled:

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS REGULATING LANDFORM ALTERATIONS, EXPANSIONS OF LEVEL PAD AREAS OF LOTS, AND DEVELOPMENT OFF THE LEVEL PAD OF LOTS IN THE HILLSIDE AREA OF THE CITY

The proposed ordinance includes the following measures, which would apply to Hillside development projects until such time that permanent hillside development regulations, which will be studied by the City over the next several months, are adopted:

- No more than two thousand (2,000) cubic yards of earth material may be imported or exported from a site in the Hillside Area that is immediately adjacent to a street that is less than twenty four (24) feet wide, unless a Hillside R-1 permit is issued pursuant to Section 10-3-2550.A. of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code. The current limit of export/import before an R-1 permit is required is 3,000 cubic yards per 5 year period. The current regulation does not include provisions regarding the width of adjacent streets (BHMC § 10-3-2521).
- A level pad area must contain a level square-shaped area with minimum dimensions of twenty (20) feet per side for the level pad to be used to calculate the maximum permitted cumulative floor area of buildings and structures in the Hillside Area pursuant to Section 10-3-2502.B. of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code. The current BHMC standards do not include a minimum level pad size to qualify for use in maximum floor area calculations.
- The maximum cumulative floor area of the portion of any buildings and structures located off the existing level pad of any lot in the Hillside Area of the City shall be one thousand (1,000) square feet, unless a Hillside R-1 permit is issued pursuant to Section 10-3-2550 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code. For purposes of this Ordinance, "level pad" shall have the meaning set forth in Beverly Hills Municipal Code Section 10-3-100, and "existing level pad" shall mean the level pad in existence on the date this Ordinance takes effect. There is currently no limit to floor area developed off the level pad before an R-1 permit is required.

This Ordinance has been preliminarily assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City. The City Council will consider the adoption and implementation of the Ordinance to be exempt from CEQA pursuant to Section 15061(b)(3) as there is no possibility that adoption and implementation of the Ordinance may have a significant effect on the environment because the Ordinance does not authorize construction and it would impose greater restrictions on certain development in order to protect the public health, safety and general welfare. Additionally the City Council will consider if adoption and implementation of the Ordinance is eligible for a Class 8 categorical exemption pursuant to Section 15308 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations for actions taken to assure the maintenance and protection of the environment.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the City Council.

At the public hearing, the City Council will hear and consider all comments. All interested persons are invited to attend and speak on this matter. Written comments may also be submitted and should be addressed to the City Council, c/o City Clerk, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. The comments should be received prior to the hearing date.

Please note that if you challenge the City's action in regards to this matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at a public hearing or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the end of the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Alek Miller, Assistant Planner, Community Development Department, at (310) 285-1196 or amiller@beverlyhills.org. The case file is on file at the Community Development Department and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, California 90210.

incorporation of parking requirements into the ordinance.

“We were concerned about the bulk and height and additional square footage without parking,” Block said.

Block and Corman also backed a rooftop structure that totaled 10 percent of the building’s overall floor area, rather than 28 percent.

“Ten percent is an arbitrary number,” Tilem said.

The Commission unanimously approved a zone text amendment regarding rooftop uses and requested that it be pursuant to the staff report.

City, Hilton reach settlement agreement

The City of Beverly Hills and the Beverly Hills Garden and Open Space Initiative agreed Tuesday to settle their lawsuit over the application of the city’s campaign disclosure ordinance to political advertisements.

Last Monday, the initiative filed a lawsuit in federal court alleging that an “unconstitutional” city ordinance violated its First Amendment rights and would “severely burden its efforts to communicate with voters.”

Rather than expend time and resources litigating the matter in court, both parties have agreed on terms of a mutually acceptable preliminary injunction that clarifies and modifies the operation of the ordinance.

The revised rules will apply to all advertisements — both for and against the initiative—for the November 8th ballot measure election. After the election, the city will work with all residents to revise the city’s campaign advertising ordinance.

Horace Mann to celebrate grand opening August 14

On August 14, Horace Mann PTA will host a grand opening for the new school building, the first under the Measure E bond. The event begins at 3:00 p.m. for Horace Mann families, staff and special guests, and 6:00 p.m. for public tours.

Horace Mann families, administrators and teachers, and BHUSD officials, city commissioners and committee members are invited to attend the Purple ribbon-cutting ceremony featuring remarks by Mayor John Mirisch, Board of Education President Howard Goldstein, Superintendent and former Horace Mann Principal Steve Kessler and newly appointed Principal Dana Findley. Self-guided tours of the school will follow.

Event sponsors include Totum Consulting, Knowland Construction, Leighton Consulting and WLC Architects.

Board attempts to nab fourth vote for bond resolution with study session

In an eleventh-hour attempt to secure a fourth vote for a new bond resolution, the Board of Education held a study session Tuesday on “Phase 2” of the BHUSD modernization effort.

Two bond resolutions vying for placement on the November 8th ballot appeared on a staff report last month, but the Board could not reach a consensus: Vice President Mel Spitz and member Isabel Hacker opposed the move.

“To advocate for a new bond while most of Measure E construction projects are underway proves to be an unrealistic

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

DATE: August 11, 2016
TIME: 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard
LOCATION: Room 280-A
 Beverly Hills City Hall
 455 North Rexford Drive
 Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its REGULAR meeting on Thursday, August 11, 2016, will hold a public hearing beginning at 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider a request for Variations and a Development Plan Review to allow construction of a new 32’2” tall, three-story residential building containing one unit located at 9171 West 3rd Street. The proposed project is located on a 2,580 square foot lot in the R-4 zone and would have a floor area of 3,609 square feet (including basement). Construction of the proposed project requires the following entitlements:

Variations from the City of Beverly Hills Municipal Code (BHMC) for the following:

- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2805 to build habitable basement area in a multi-family zone
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2807 to allow reduction of the required side yard setback
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2808 to allow reduction of the required rear yard setback
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2810 to allow extension of the basement lightwell to encroach into a side yard setback
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2817 to waive guest parking requirements
- Variance from BHMC § 10-3-2818 to provide parking spaces not enclosed by solid walls and shielded from public view.

These variations are being requested in order to accommodate the proposed structure on the project site.

A Development Plan Review pursuant to BHMC § 10-3-3100 is required because the proposed project involves new construction.

This project has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000 et seq.), and the City’s Local CEQA guidelines. The project qualifies for a Class 3 Categorical Exemption for new construction or conversion of small structures pursuant to Section 15303 of the guidelines because it is a multi-family residential structure that contains no more than four dwelling units, and the project has been determined not to have a significant environmental impact.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission’s action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Timothea Tway, Associate Planner in the Planning Division at (310) 285-1122, or by email at ttway@beverlyhills.org. Copies of the project plans and associated application materials are on file in the Community Development Department, and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210.

Sincerely,
 Timothea Tway, AICP

Health & Safety Commission recognizes local leaders

At the June 27th Health & Safety Commission meeting, Chair Lisa Kay Schwartz honored licensed funeral director Rob Carlin with the Health & Safety Recognition award for his commitment to the Every 15 Minutes program, which began at Beverly High in 2008.

Carlin was accompanied by former Health & Safety Commissioner Karen Setian, whose son Vahagn passed away in a 2006 car accident caused by a drunk driver. Carlin directed Vahagn’s funeral.

“That was the biggest funeral I ever did,” Carlin said. “There were 700 people at that funeral, and everyone was [Vahagn’s] best friend.”

By simulating a car accident caused by distracted driving, Every 15 Minutes aims to encourage high school juniors and seniors to reconsider drinking or texting while driving.

Carlin has conducted a four-hour mock funeral each time Every 15 Minutes has taken place at Beverly High over the past eight years.

Commission Vice Chair Daniel Nazarian later recognized Carmen Bertoni, Ph.D., for her “outstanding contribution to finding a cure for muscular dystrophy.”

As part of the Health and Safety Recognition Program, a commissioner honors an individual, business or group each month that has demonstrated leadership in the field of health and safety issues or made a contribution to the mission of the commission.

The deadline to place a bond resolution on the ballot is August 12.

Hawthorne	$91,250,000

Spitz appeared less steadfast in his opposition, and said he would consider supporting the resolution if the Board “[agreed] on the specific projects and the cost of each project.”

“We kind of originally put this together so we can see if Mr. Spitz had specific concerns about what he wasn’t seeing in the bond,” said Board member Noah Margo.

The first Phase 2 forecast that came before the Board totaled $371 million. The second projects list excluded Hawthorne and amounted to $278 million.

For the first time Tuesday, the Board indicated the existence of a third chapter in the district modernization story: Phase 3.

Beverly High Building A, initially planned for Phase 2, was instead proposed for Phase 3, following the determination by the Board that Hawthorne is a greater priority.

With Building A eliminated from the proposal, modernization of Beverly High will cost around $142 million (see chart below), including $74 million for Building C, an elaborate parking structure adjacent to the Swim Gym.

Hacker said Building C “is not a priority.”

“Excuse me, Konheim is crumbling, so Konheim is replaced by [Building C]—that is the priority, that is the urgency,” said Board member Lisa Korbatov.

The revised Phase 2 package is also expected to fund a portion of a $31.6-million technology budget presented to the Board by district staff in April.

A Proposition-39 measure, Resolution No. 003 requires 55-percent voter approval, and Resolution No. 004 requires 66.7-percent voter approval; at least four Board members must vote “yes” to authorize the former, while the latter requires only three votes.

A survey conducted by Godbe Research in May to assess potential voter support for a new bond measure depicted a public that needs convincing.

The Board is expected to vote on the bond resolution at their August 9th meeting.

DIMINISHING RETURNS

July 5, 2016

I'm here again, in my second home: Stanford hospital. When I moved back up to northern California, I enjoyed a nice period of "stability" in which I was able to see friends daily, work a lot, frequent the gym, spend days outdoors and nights out with the people I love, and adjust to life in a new city. Still doing home IV antibiotics for 4 hours three times a day, plus breathing treatments 2-4 times a day (totaling about 3 hours), plus visiting Stanford for medical appointments every two weeks, my medical regimen still kept me busy. But for a few months, I took some deep breaths. My new lease on life tamed the anxieties and fears that had left me wrecked with insomnia during my months of sickness in Los Angeles.

A few hospitalizations for hemoptysis—coughing up blood—began to set me back: one in April, and one in May. Then, in mid-May, in a shocking turn of events, my doctor took me off all IV and oral antibiotics—not because I was finally better, but because I was resistant to all of them and my progress had stagnated. It was a case of diminishing returns. Since they weren't doing much benefit anymore (that was evident based on findings both in vivo and in vitro), removing them all would be a sink or swim trial. It would tell my doctors and me if it's possible for me to stay out of the hospital for more than a few weeks while off antibiotics. It would also be a forced rest period for my bugs, hopefully allowing my chronic bacterial infection a chance to become sensitive to the drugs again.

I got two good weeks. Between May 11 and May 25, I had a good friend visit from Oregon, walked 24,000 steps in a day during Bay to Breakers, gazed up at towering redwoods in Muir Woods, ate waterfront in Sausalito, surfed (for the first time in almost a year) in Pacifica, worked on my book, visited the SFMOMA, applied for a job, and had my first real job interview for a writing and copyediting job at an SF startup.

Then, I went to LA, and I got sick. Memorial Day weekend brought fun parties and friends, but fevers. I quickly adjusted my expectations for the week—I had planned to surf every day while at home, but I've learned the hard way that surfing with a fever and shortness of breath is dangerous. Fatigue limited the amount I could do, but I enjoyed every minute of being home with my family and my Kona.

Every day, I faced the questions I face every time I'm struck with my four classic sickness symptoms (shortness of breath, fatigue, fever and hemoptysis): do I need to call Stanford? Do I need to go to the ER now? Not wanting to get stuck admitted at a hospital in LA with an order from Stanford doctors not to fly back north, I didn't call anyone, and got through the week. I had a secondary motive to hide my symptoms—I wanted to see my friends Alex and Hannah become Mr. and Mrs. Rosenthal that weekend, the original reason for my trip to LA and a wedding I would have been devastated to miss.

I made it through the week and went to the wedding, happily dancing and celebrating the newlyweds as long as I could before needing to sit down and enjoy the night from my seat. Later that night, my fever spiked, and I knew that I would be admitted and back on IV antibiotics as soon as I got back up north. I tossed and turned all night, hoping that I wasn't sabotaging my own body by not going to the emergency room right then.

I recently finished a book by the late neurosurgeon Paul Kalanithi, When Breath Meets Air. After working his entire life to become a neurosurgeon and ending up a chief resident at Stanford, he was hit with a diagnosis of stage IV lung cancer. His career path had been brimming with opportunity—to become a renowned neurosurgeon/neuroscientist, to do research that would change lives, and to continue operating on the very organ that makes people who they are. And then in a blink, everything shifted.

The life he had been leading was gone. The diagnosis left him facing his mortality at a much younger age than he ever thought he would have to. It forced him to consider the question of what makes life meaningful—which had long held his interest in an abstract sense—in a concrete, urgent, and highly personal way.

Lung cancer and cystic fibrosis are very different illnesses, of course, but throughout the book I found myself laughing, crying, highlighting, underlining, and saying yes, yes, yes, yes yes. So much of it resonated.

With his diagnosis shining a spotlight on his mortality, he wondered how he should spend his time. "The way forward would seem obvious," he wrote, "if only I knew how many months or years I had left. Tell me three months, I'd spend time with family. Tell me one year, I'd write a book. Give me ten years, I'd get back to treating diseases. The truth that you live one day at a time didn't help: What was I supposed to do with that day?"

The question of how to meaningfully spend a life is not unique to those of us with health challenges. None of us know if our lives will be cut short. But for people with cystic fibrosis, or stage IV lung cancer, or any other life-limiting illness, there is a certainty that life will most likely be cut short to some extent. This certainty forces us to examine our values, prioritize our time, and search for meaning now, rather than later. "I began to realize that coming in such close contact with my own mortality had changed both nothing and everything," Kalanithi wrote. "Before my cancer was diagnosed, I knew that someday I would die, but I didn't know when. After the diagnosis, I knew that someday I would die, but I didn't know when. But now I knew it acutely."

Kalanithi hits the nail on the head of one of the more frustrating aspects of trying to make the most of whatever amount of time we may have. "The most obvious might be an impulse to frantic activity: to 'live life to its fullest,' to travel, to dine, to achieve a host of neglected ambitions. Part of the cruelty of cancer, though, is not only that it limits your time; it also limits your energy, vastly reducing the amount you can squeeze into a day... Some days, I simply persist." Some days, we simply persist; we simply breathe.

In this time of tumult and uncertainty, I weigh the changes I may soon face against the risks of not making those changes. Just upstairs from my own hospital room, a dear friend lies intubated, the ventilator robbing her of her ability to speak. My heart breaks for her. Her situation provides a staggering example of how quickly things can change for us; how we can never take a moment for granted; how, as her brother says, "reality always finds us."

A few weeks ago, on a night when I wasn't sure how to keep managing it all, I finished Paul Kalanithi's book and cried. But it reminded me of the way to move forward, the way I've been operating my entire life: "Maybe, in the absence of any certainty, we should just assume that we're going to live a long time. Maybe that's the only way forward.... Even if I'm dying, until I actually die, I am still living."

MALLORY'S STORY

Battling cystic fibrosis is tough. But Mallory Smith is determined to live happy.

By Mina Riazi

We spoke with 2010 Beverly High grad Mallory Smith, first profiled in issue #634, about her ongoing battle with cystic fibrosis.

You were diagnosed with cystic fibrosis, a chronic, life-threatening disease, at age three. How did it affect you growing up in Beverly Hills?

It affected me a lot because I was always going in and out of the hospital, so it really interrupted my schooling and sports, which were both really important to me. But I think it did bring me a lot closer to the important people in my life: the friends I had were very present and always very supportive whenever I was sick. It brought my family closer together and it brought my friends closer together.

In a recent Facebook post, your mom Diane Shader Smith wrote, “It’s clear that most people don’t understand the severity of the situation because [Mallory] looks so good and does so much.” Can you update us on your situation?

For the last year, I have struggled a lot with fighting the chronic infection that I have had since I was 11. I’ve been colonized with a specific bacteria, Burkholderia cenocepacia, since I was 11 years old, and it’s a bacteria that is extremely dangerous. We’ve been managing it well my whole life, but within the last year it’s become extremely resistant to antibiotics, and so I’ve had to stay on multiple intravenous antibiotics for essentially the whole year, since last July. My doctors, at this point, have said they’ve never seen a patient who—once they get to this point of the bacteria becoming so resistant and uncontrollable—they’ve never seen a patient turn around; essentially, they’ve never seen it get to the point where the bacteria all of a sudden becomes controllable. They said that without antibiotics I would not live a year. The antibiotics are keeping me afloat right now—that’s what my mom means when she refers to IVs, because the antibiotics are intravenous. That’s why their prognosis is that I will stay on [the antibiotics] forever, for however long they continue to work. Once they stop working, I will hopefully be able to get a lung transplant. It’s a little bit complex, but I still am able to breathe; I’m not in respiratory failure right now, and that’s because of the antibiotics. If I were to go off of all the antibiotics today, the doctors have basically said that within a year I would go into respiratory failure and would not be able to get a transplant, probably because the bacteria would be too out of control. But if I stay on these antibiotics for the indefinite future, then they’ll hopefully keep me sort of stable for a while. Nobody knows how long that is: it could be months, it could be a couple of years, we don’t really know, but at some point they’ll stop working and my lungs will decline to the point where I’ll need a lung transplant. So what we’re hoping for at this time is to have a transplant center somewhere in the country that will agree to take on my case. But my case is very risky. In the past, everybody that has been approached [to take on] my case has said no. That’s sort of a challenge that we’re facing right now—to try to get a center that agrees to take on my case for when the time comes.

The reason why [my mom] said that she thinks it’s clear that a lot of people don’t understand [my situation] is because we didn’t even understand [it]. I was sort of living in the dark. I thought that I was going through a bad patch and that I was going to get better and that my life was going to go back to how it was. I used to play volleyball, I used to surf, and I used to be extremely active; I was living under the impression that we would get this infection under control and my life would go back to that way again.

The other thing is that cystic fibrosis is really not a visible illness. If anybody saw me right now, you’d be very surprised, because I still look really healthy. I’ve had experiences in my life where it’s impossible for the people around me to comprehend what’s happening with my life and to understand the impact of each of my current hospitalizations on my long-term prognosis, and so the news they delivered to us was important enough that we wanted everybody that was significant in our lives to know.

Do you adhere to a rigid daily schedule? Tell us about it.

The medical schedule [at Stanford Hospital] itself is very rigid because I take three, sometimes four, intravenous antibiotics three times a day, and they have to be exactly spaced eight hours apart, and some of them run for one hour, some of them run for two hours, some of them run for three hours, so I’m constantly starting and stopping and switching between medications and I have alarms that go off all day long.

My friends laugh at me because every five minutes another alarm is going off for a different treatment or a different IV medication; it keeps my schedule very rigid. I have to fit in two-to-four breathing treatments a day.

Other than my medical stuff, my schedule is a little bit fluid because I work from home, so the rest of my schedule kind of depends on how I feel. I do freelance writing. For the past year-and-a-half, I’ve been working on the text of a coffee table book for an environmental philanthropist in conjunction with the National Wildlife Federation. We’re actually finishing it up next week—the timing is kind of crazy. I also ghostwrite articles for a healthcare law firm.

You have a strong support system comprised of family and friends. How have they helped you deal with the different aspects of cystic fibrosis?

They’ve been incredible. I would say I have the best family in the world, I feel really lucky. I’m really close with both of my parents, and my brother, and my grandparents, my aunts, my uncles and my cousins. My family has been a very important part of my support system.

I moved back up to northern California, [and] a lot of my friends from both high school and college are here, so that’s been really nice for me, too. I have a lot of friends from Beverly High that live up here now.

You currently operate a blog and are considering writing a book. Tell us about that.

When I was in college [at Stanford], I started doing some writing about my disease: first, in a creative nonfiction writing class and then for a senior project. I found that it was a really therapeutic way to handle issues that came up. I think it’s really empowering to be able to create your own narrative, and so I started to do that more. I never planned on publishing anything on the blog, but about a year ago, when I was still living in Manhattan Beach, I had been doing a lot of writing and I just thought, why not, I might as well post this and see what happens. I was actually inspired by a friend who was taking a memoir writing class. She was doing a lot of writing and sharing it with friends over email, and it made me want to share my writing more with friends. The first major blog post that I put up was called “And We Are Big,” and I did that about a year ago and the response was really amazing and overwhelming. It made me want to continue writing specifically for a more public audience as opposed to just writing for myself, which is what I had been doing at that point.

I’m not sure if [the book] is going to be a collection of essays or if it’s going to be a typical book. I have a lot of thinking to do about that.

What advice would you give to other people living with cystic fibrosis?

I would say that it’s all about finding a good balance between protecting your health and taking risks and living your life. At any point in the progression of the disease, the balance of those things is going to be different. When I was younger, I would say there was probably more emphasis on living my life and slightly less emphasis on my health, and as I got older there was more emphasis on protecting my health and less on living my life. Now that I’m at a point where my doctors don’t necessarily foresee my health improving, they’ve said, specifically, live your life, do the things that you want to do, do whatever makes you happy. To other patients I would say [don’t] ever lose sight of that part, because it’s obviously important to focus on health and be very compliant with all the treatments, but you have to always remember what the reason is that you’re doing this, what’s the thing that makes you happy that’s even the reason why you keep fighting?

What has cystic fibrosis taught you?

This is very cliché, but one of the things that it’s taught me is that every day matters, because you don’t know how many days you have. There’s really no point in thinking of any day as a wasted day. My mom’s motto is “Find the joy in every day.”

Planning Commission “cleans up” municipal code

The Planning Commission approved an ordinance July 28 that proposes several modifications, such as typographical corrections and semantic changes, to the Beverly Hills municipal code.

“I think that this is an excellent clarification and I believe that this is something that needs to be done every so often, and I appreciate you bringing this to our attention,” said Vice Chair Lori Greene Gordon.

The Community Development Department regularly pinpoints areas of the municipal code that require minor language changes and typographical corrections.

“Nothing that we’re proposing in the zone text amendment would change the meaning or the interpretation of any of the code sections,” said Associate Planner Timothea Tway.

The amendments approved by the Commission Thursday include clarifying that a porte cochere covering a driveway is an allowable encroachment within the required nine-foot side property setback area on single-family residential lots located south of Santa Monica Boulevard.

“What we’re doing is cleaning up code language that is internally inconsistent currently and just clarifying that porte cocheres are still allowed south of Santa Monica,” Tway said.

An additional modification corrects the public notification mailed notice radius requirements for cases necessitating review at the Commission or Council level.

“Several years ago, the Planning Commission worked on renewing the requirements for public noticing in the city, and the City Council adopted an ordinance to address new mailed radius areas for Planning Commission and staff-level cases,” Tway said. “It is supposed to be a 500[-foot] radius plus block-face—there is a typo on the code that says 300 feet.”

The Commission also agreed to change code language in order to clarify that walkways less than five feet in width are allowed within three feet of the front property line on single-family residential lots located in the central area of the city.

The suspects, who were driving a stolen Honda SUV, are responsible for multiple auto burglaries, further investigation revealed.

BHHS football team begins fall football practice

Beverly High began fall football practice Monday with what new coach Steve Geanakos called “a fairly decent turnout” of about 30 players.

“It’s always difficult to get the physicals and paperwork and all those things (completed), especially when kids are gone for the summer,” Geanakos said before Wednesday’s practice.

Geanakos said he expected more than 40 players at Wednesday’s practice. Geanakos said he has a list of 80 students who played football or participated in spring or summer practices.

“There’s still a lot out there that I need to communicate with (them and tell them) ‘We’re going. Are you with us or are you not?’”

Geanakos said he would know later how many players who have come out to fall practice would play on the varsity.

The Normans practiced in T-shirts and shorts Monday. They will practice in helmets and shoulder pads today. Southern Section rules require three days of practice in T-shirts and shorts before teams can practice in helmets and shoulder pads.

The team will hold a scrimmage against Windward Aug. 19 and open the season at Oak Park Aug. 26.

Since being appointed as coach in March to succeed Charlie Stansbury, who resigned after three seasons because his wife got a job with San Luis Obispo County’s government, Geanakos said his “mantra has been pushing safety.”

“We have great equipment,” said Geanakos, who coached the team’s running backs, linebackers, and special teams last season when they were 1-9 for the second consecutive season and failed to win more than two games for the fifth consecutive season.

“We’ve been working out hard, doing things to build up the neck, trapezius muscles, shoulders to try to eliminate head injuries.”

Since spring practice, the Normans have employed a new tackling protocol, rugby-style tackling “taking the head out of our tackling technique,” Geanakos said.

“Telling that to parents has convinced many of them” to allow their sons to play, Geanakos said.

Geanakos said there are 15 players at fall practice who have not played football before.

The Normans will use a run-oriented offense.

There are two or three potential starting quarterbacks, who Geanakos declined to name. Geanakos said he would choose a quarterback the week of the Oak Park game.

The chosen starting quarterback will have to be “smart enough” to run the offense “because I’m giving them some of the reigns of the play-calling if they can handle that,” Geanakos said.

“We need someone that can look at a defense and see what they’re offering and take advantage of that,” Geanakos said.

Geanakos praised the play of Harrison Van Pelt, Kenny Villanueva, Alex Dennis and Sebastian Fanucci in the spring and summer practices.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF NORBERT GEHR
Case No. 16STPB02540

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of NORBERT GEHR

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Tara Kersch in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on August 24, 2016 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 5 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Hotel rooms generate the best kind of revenue for the City

Hotel taxes paid by guests stay in Beverly Hills and cannot be taken by the State.

Since 1991, only 201 new hotel rooms have been built in Beverly Hills. The new Waldorf-Astoria replaces the same number of rooms being eliminated by the Beverly Hilton.

CBRE Hotels, the preferred hospitality consulting company for all Beverly Hills luxury hotels, analyzed the Beverly Hills hotel market. The 2016 CBRE Hotel Market Analysis concluded: One Beverly Hills "will not impact the Beverly Hills Luxury hotel market" as there is "significant unsatisfied demand."<sup>1</sup>

The CBRE study also determined that the 134-room boutique luxury hotel at One Beverly Hills will generate at least $8.7 million a year in new revenue to the City at hotel stabilization.<sup>2</sup>

One Beverly Hills will help satisfy this pent-up hotel demand and will generate vital new revenue for our City.

This new revenue will support our vital city services including Police, Fire and Paramedics.
